Dear Linfield Parents,

Welcome to the Linfield family. We're glad that your student will be attending Linfield University! We are now partners with you in providing the best environment possible for the continuing positive development of your college student and academic success.

This guide is designed to assist you by answering some of the questions which may arise during the year. It also identifies where and how you can get more information about what your college student will be experiencing. Please feel free to call any of us at any time if you believe we can be of assistance.

I remember sending my three daughters off to college hoping that someone there would think of them as special. As parents, we always feel they are. Even though I had spent most of my adult life on a college campus, my daughters and I frequently had questions about expectations, procedures and resources, as every college is distinctive. Hence, this guide.

Linfield has a great tradition of personalized education. Each student will find his/her passion, path and place at Linfield. You'll find the campuses have excellent educational facilities with dedicated faculty and student-oriented staffs. Clearly, though, our most important resource at Linfield is our students. We look forward to working with the Linfield student in your family.

Sincerely,

Susan Hopp

Vice President of Student Affairs and Athletics/Dean of Students

GETTING TO LINFIELD

The McMinnville Campus of Linfield University is located on Highway 99 West, approximately 37 miles southwest of Portland in the heart of the Willamette Valley. If you require transportation from the Portland airport to Linfield, commercial van service is available from White Van Shuttle, (503) 774-9755; Island Coach, (888) 968-4083; VIP Airporter, (888) 743-3847; or Caravan Airport Transportation, (888) 743-3847 by appointment only.

GETTING BACK HOME

At Orientation Weekend and the beginning and end of each semester, the student government (ASLU) provides occasional transportation between the airport and campus. Individual students should check the shuttle schedule (inside.linfield.edu/activities/) and reserve a seat online.

MOVING IN FOR NEW STUDENTS

First, new students need to check in at the Riley Campus Center. After check-in, students will go to their Residence Hall and meet their Resident Advisor. Residences will be open for new students to move in after checking in on Thursday, August 26 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

CATNET COMPUTER AND TELEPHONE CONNECTIONS

All student residential halls, suburbs (apartments), academic classrooms and public areas have wireless network access available. In order to use your computers or other technology, students must first connect to the Linfield Network upon their arrival. For more information, please go to: inside.linfield.edu/its.

All residence halls and suburbs (apartments) have land line phone jacks. Because of the very low use of these jacks starting fall semester, these phone jacks will be inactive. Integrated Technology Services (ITS) will activate a phone jack in a residence hall or suburb by request. To do so, please send an email to support@linfield.edu with your name, residence hall or suburb and room number with a brief description of why you would like the phone jack activated.

PARKING

For moving-in purposes you'll want to park as close as you can to your student's hall. Volunteers from the Linfield University fraternities and sororities will help you move your student's belongings into their room. Once moved in, it would be very helpful if you would move your car so that others can move in easily.

ELECTRICAL HOOK-UPS

Extension cords may come in handy for some items. Please only use approved heavy duty power strips and be careful not to overload circuits.

SHOPPING

There may be some time in the schedule on Thursday for you to pick up last minute items at a local store. Most of Friday is booked for other orientation activities. Your student will certainly have some time to shop later in the week, and of course many students receive deliveries from Amazon or other online retailers.

SHIPPING ITEMS TO YOUR STUDENT

If you ship trunks and boxes, they should be addressed to the student in care of Linfield University 190 SW Lakamas Lane, McMinnville, OR 97128, not to the student's residence hall. Please label multiple boxes separately as "Box 1 of 3, Box 2 of 3, etc." Shipped materials may be picked up by the addressee at Mail Services at Withnell Commons. They will need to show their student ID. Once the student has moved into their residence all packages should be addressed directly to them at their unit number should be addressed directly to them at their unit number.

MCMINNVILLE AREA RESTAURANTS

Students really appreciate the opportunity to get away from campus for a meal. Here is a list of places to eat in the local community. For some restaurants (and some weekends such as Homecoming and Fall Family Weekend) reservations are recommended. For more information on McMinnville, contact the Chamber of Commerce at 503-472-6196 or at McMinnville.org or Visit McMinnville at 503-857-0182.

FINANCIAL AID

Financial aid is applied directly to University charges for tuition, fees, and room and board (if appropriate). All required forms and application materials must be turned in to the Office of Financial Aid to allow funds to be released to the student's account. Students are encouraged to check with the Office of Financial Aid if there is any question about whether all documents are on file. If financial difficulty is experienced at any time during your student's college career, the Office of Financial Aid can assist them in exploring all available options. The office is located in Melrose Hall, Suite 030, and at 503-883-2225.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Students who receive Federal Work Study or Campus Employment as part of their offer of assistance will find jobs posted at linfield.edu/career/catconnect. All campus jobs require that Federal Work Study or Campus Employment be listed as financial aid, and students desiring to work must also complete all employment-related paperwork, including providing proof of eligibility to work in the United States (I-9), prior to working. Some local employers list off-campus jobs with the Office of Career Development in Melrose Hall.

ABOUT LINFIELD'S DRUG AND ALCOHOL POLICY

Linfield's alcohol policy, like Oregon State Law, prohibits the consumption of alcohol by anyone under 21 years of age. Alcohol is not permitted at all in public areas on the campus (including apartment balconies). While educational sanctions may follow violations of the alcohol policy, the university is intent on assisting those who have (or have potential for) a drinking problem. Counseling help can be obtained in the Counseling Office located in Walker Hall, Room 103.

As many of you are aware, in 2014 Oregon voters approved Ballot Measure 91. Key provisions of Measure 91 allow persons 21 and over to grow and personally possess certain amounts of recreational marijuana under state law. Measure 91 went into effect on July 1, 2015. As a parent you may ask "What will change on campus?"

The answer is that essentially nothing will change. The use and possession of marijuana will continue to be prohibited on campus, at University-sponsored events, in University housing, and in the University workplace. It is important for all members of our community to understand that federal law has not changed. Linfield University must adhere to federal law, or we would put financial aid and other federal funding at risk.

Linfield University is a drug-free workplace. Any member of the University community who uses, is under the influence of, manufactures, possesses, has under his/her control, sells, furnishes, or facilitates the use of a narcotic or dangerous drug or drug paraphernalia or misuses prescription medication, is subject to disciplinary action up to and possibly including separation from the University. Because drug use is a hindrance to success in college, the college will treat any violation of any college policy, state or local drug laws on or off campus by students as a violation of the college drug policy. McMinnville Police Department may be contacted at the University's discretion.

For additional student policies, please see the Guide to Living at Linfield and the Student Handbook.

FRATERNITY AND SORORITY LIFE

Linfield has four sororities and three fraternities. The sororities do not have houses, but rather, meeting rooms in the basement of Miller Hall. The fraternities each have houses near campus. There will be a “New Member Recruitment Week” early in spring semester for students interested in finding out more about Linfield’s sororities and fraternities. One can participate in New Member Recruitment without choosing to join. For students choosing to join a fraternity or sorority, there is usually a fee for initiation and dues which they will need to pay sometime during spring semester. After that time, fraternity or sorority charges may appear on the student’s account. These charges are applied to the account only after the student has signed a billing slip authorizing the charge to be made. This charge is typically for dues, local fees, and, in the case of fraternities, housing charges. Men joining fraternities may move to the fraternity house after one full semester in university housing. These housing charges will be added to the student account.

Any questions about the sororities or fraternities should be addressed to the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life at fsl@linfield.edu. You may also find out more information on the internet at linfield.edu/fsl.

COMMON QUESTIONS

Must a student be in campus housing?

Linfield’s mission with regard to housing is to create living/learning communities which provide challenging opportunities for the development of the whole person. The university expects students to understand and respect community standards and values. The university envisions a safe environment which honors and appreciates the similarities and differences of those living in campus housing.

Linfield is a residential university and has a residency requirement for its students. We believe the greatest student development occurs for those students involved in campus life and in frequent contact with others on campus. In general, students must be in campus housing unless they live at home, within 20 miles of campus, until they are in their 4th year of attendance, are 21 years old, or are married.

Must a student be on the meal plan?

All students who live in a residence hall are required to be on a meal plan. First- and second-year students who live in a fraternity are also required to be on a meal plan.

What if a student has a special diet or health concern related to diet?

Our food service provider, Sodexo, is obligated by contract to meet the dietary needs of our students. Sodexo frequently serves many students for whom special care and provisions are needed. Students should contact the Food Services Manager, Javier Lopez, jlopez4@linfield.edu.

How will I know if our student is having difficulty?

This requires good communication between you and your student. If your student is over 18, by federal law, the university cannot inform you without his or her permission about academic performance, disciplinary matters, or his or her general progress. By law, institutions may not disclose information about students, even to parents, without written permission from the student.

What if my student has a problem?

We would like to know about that, of course. While we would welcome calls from parents at any time, we highly recommend that you encourage your student to speak with the appropriate office first regarding his or her concern. This is an important part of the student development process.

How is my student's academic schedule developed?

New students will meet with their faculty academic advisor and their peer advisor during the Orientation period. Both new and continuing students should discuss their academic plans with their faculty advisor, who must sign their registration cards. Good academic schedules contain required courses, courses in a potential major, and elective courses.

DIRECTIONS TO MCMINNVILLE

FROM PORTLAND

Take I-5 to the Tualatin/Sherwood Exit (289). Turn right onto the Tualatin/Sherwood Road.

Proceed through the community of Tualatin until you reach Sherwood (ten minutes). In Sherwood, immediately past the Albertson's shopping complex, take a left onto Hwy 99W. Continue through the communities of Newberg and Dundee (15-20 minutes). A few miles south of Dundee you will take a left onto Hwy 18. Follow this highway until you pass Willamette Valley Medical Center on your left (ten minutes). Take the McMinnville Exit. Stay on this road (which turns into 3rd Street) until you reach North Adams (you will come to a T in the road). Turn left onto North Adams and continue until you see Linfield on your left (about a half-mile). Go past the main entrance to campus and then take a left onto Linfield Avenue. There you will find street parking and three parking lots that are within walking distance to the Check-In and Welcome Fair in Riley Campus Center.

FROM PORTLAND INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

Take I-205 south to the I-5 Northbound interchange (24 miles). Heading north on I-5, stay in the right-hand lane. Take the Tualatin-Sherwood exit (289). Go left at the light onto the Tualatin/Sherwood Road. Continue with directions above starting with the word "proceed."

FROM EUGENE VIA I-5

Exit I-5 at Hwy 34 and go west to Corvallis. Turn right onto Hwy 99W and go north to McMinnville, just over an hour's drive. Linfield is on the right at the third traffic light in town.

ARE YOU PLANNING TO TRAVEL ON THURSDAY, AUGUST 26TH?

Because it's a summer weekend, traffic from Portland may be quite heavy. Leave yourself plenty of extra time! You'll need time for your student to check in and get their student ID when you get to campus before they can move into their residence hall. (Check-in ends at 3:00 p.m.)

TEN TIPS FOR PARENTING A COLLEGE STUDENT

1. Have a chat now with your student. Have him or her articulate why he or she wants to go to college. Have them talk about why they chose Linfield. Later, should difficulties arise, these discussions can be recounted.
2. Ask your student to make some decisions now, before they arrive on campus, about how he or she will deal with alcohol, sexual relations, and freedom of time. Too often, students have not given sufficient forethought to these items – and so make regrettable, on-the-spot decisions.
3. Keep in communication with your student, but resist the urge for constant contact. Let them lead in making connections. Remember you may be able to read the Linfield Review, the university newspaper on-line, and can then ask your student about their involvement in campus life and available opportunities.
4. Let your student take the lead in choosing a major, course of study, and individual courses. Remember that electives and general education are important elements in the university curriculum. Do not over emphasize career-related study.
5. The best collegiate experiences strike a balance between academic learning and experiential opportunities. Praise your student for seeking and finding co-curricular activities that enhance their college experience.
6. There is a high probability your student will encounter some difficulty. It may be homesickness, a roommate issue, a registration problem . . . whatever. Listen intently, be supportive, but encourage them to try to solve the problem on their own before you intervene.
7. Linfield University has a wonderful array of resources. Encourage your student to use them. These include a health center, exercise room, counseling staff, residence life staff, Safe personnel, and academic advisors.
8. Do visit, but not too often, and do not promote frequent visits home. Weekends are a good time for your student to discover opportunities at the school, to bond with others, and even to study.
9. When you do visit, take your student (and a friend or two) out to dinner. If you can't visit, upon occasion, send small "care" packages.
10. Relax. Enjoy the experience. From time to time, it can even be fun.

HELPING PARENTS STAY CONNECTED

E-CAT AND LINFIELD FAMILY E-NEWSLETTER

E-Cat, a monthly e-newsletter, updates alumni, parents and friends about Linfield news and activities. Linfield Family is sent quarterly and includes valuable information about campus events, student and faculty achievements, and important dates and deadlines, as well as interactive parent surveys. To receive the e-newsletters, send an email to parents@linfield.edu.

PARENT RESOURCE LINE

We are happy to assist parents as questions arise and will work with you to support your student's development. If you or your student has a question, and you're not sure who to contact at Linfield, please call 503-883-LPRL (5775).
